Excerpt: .but to collect into one view, from his several dramas, and from the ancient tracts in which they are mentioned, or alluded to, all the circumstances that can throw any light on this new and curious inquiry. From those circumstances, and from the entries in the books of. Who still looks lean, sure with some p-is curst, But no man can be FalstqffffaX at first.

Prologue to the tragedy of Circe. The plays which Shakspeare produced before the year 1600, are known, and are seventeen or eighteen in number. The rest of his dramas, we may conclude, were composed between that year and the time of his retiring to the country. It is incumbent on those, who differ in opinion from the great authorities abovementioned, --who think with Rowe, that we are not to look for his beginnings in his least perfect works, it is...
