Christianity was cemented by the blood of the martyrs. Religious liberty and civil and constitutional freedom have been built up by the mysterious potency of this precious cement. Let us not, who inherit what the blood of the past has built, grow squeamish at the mention of war. If the institutions of freedom, order and righteousness, cemented for us by the blood of the Fathers, are assaulted and shaken, let us not withhold that which can alone cement them anew. The blood is not worth the having which is not worth the spending. This language is none too strong, it but expresses the simple truth But the Bible gives a significance to the shedding of blood, such as no human history ever did or ever will. It reveals to us the Christ - the anointed of the Father, pouring out his blood for the ransom of our race. It teaches us that we are redeemed, not with Silver and Gold - but with this precious blood of Christ; thus showing that God's richest gifts to man - Eternal Life and Immortal bliss - are the fruits of the shedding of blood. And, truly, without shedding of blood, there could come to man no remission of sins, no blessing, no good forever and ever. The shedding of blood in war, terrible and awful as it is, is sometimes not only justifiable, but absolutely...
